DETAILED ACTION

Amendment

The amendment timely filed on March 4, 2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 9-10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Matchefts et al. U.S. Patent No. 6,330,600 ('Matchlefts').

Matchlefts discloses:

As to claim 9,

transmitting, by the first monitoring device, a request for reading the network address (deemed to be functionally equivalent to the request number/equipment value) of the second monitoring device to the communications device; See 5:30-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

transmitting, by the first monitoring device, a request for reading registered data which is altered by a updating operation and recorded in the database accommodated by the second monitoring device to the second monitoring device by using the network address of the second monitoring device received from the communications device, when the first monitoring device receives the network address of the second monitoring device from the communications device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

updating, by the first monitoring device, registered data recorded in the database accommodated by the first monitoring device based on the registered data received from the second monitoring device, when the first monitoring device receives the registered data which is altered by the updating operation and recorded in the database accommodated by the second monitoring device from the second monitoring device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21.

As to claim 10,

transmitting, by a second monitoring device, a request for reading the network address of the first monitoring device to the first communication device, when the second monitoring device is newly connected to the network; See 5:30-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

transmitting, by a second monitoring device, to the first monitoring device a request for reading data relevant to the second communications device which is recorded in the database accommodated by the first monitoring device, by using the network address of the first monitoring device received from the first communication device, when the second monitoring device receives the network address of the first monitoring device from the first communications device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

recording, by the second monitoring device, the data relevant to the second communications device received from the first monitoring device in a database accommodated by the second monitoring device, when the second monitoring device receives the data relevant to the second communications device from the first monitoring device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21.

As to claim 11,

a control command transmitting unit transmitting a control command with a network address of the first monitoring device from the first monitoring device to the communications device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

an address transmitting unit transmitting the network address of the first monitoring device received from the first monitoring device from the communications device to the second monitoring device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

a first database updating unit updating registered data recorded in the database accommodated by the first monitoring device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21;

a request transmitting unit transmitting a read-out request for reading out registered data which is altered by the updating operation and recorded in the database accommodated by the first monitoring from the second monitoring device to the first monitoring device, by using the network address of the first monitoring device received from the communications device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21; and a second database updating unit updating registered data recorded in the database accommodated by the second monitoring device based on the registered data received from the first monitoring device, when the second monitoring device receives the registered data altered by the updating operation from the first monitoring device; See 5:1-50; 6:55-64; 8:20-21.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12, 14, and 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 1-2, 4-8, and 16-17 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 9-10 and 11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
